

eVidyaloka™
To Educate ~ Anywhere Anytime

WHEN THEY KNOW HOW MUCH YOU CARE...

I have been volunteering with eVidyaloka for nearly 8 years now and have not wished to stop this noble act of imparting knowledge to the rural community anytime soon.

As I have always emphasised, I just love the task of meeting innocent souls, and each meeting brings a new experience to this day. The greatest power behind this spirit, the fact that I am contributing to a worthy cause, and the impact it has on the younger generation, keeps me going.

The pleasant surprises, appreciation from the young souls, and support from the eVidyaloka team give me the relentless energy to continue.

I give my students special time, one day a week, to talk to them in the way they want to be approached—that is, with patience—and then listen to their activities during the day.

This has taught me that these kids 'do not care about how much you know, until they know how much you care.' And this remains my motto to this day.

METAMORPHOSIS.

THE CHANGES BROUGHT BY EVIDYALOKA'S DIGITAL CLASSES

When eVidyaloka Digital Classes happen, everyone involved undergoes change in their own way.

Students who were initially disinterested now come rushing to attend eVidyaloka classes during their lunch break in PS Vachhol in Gujarat.

Volunteer Teacher Vishwajith sings to his class, to set an example to the students that coming late is not okay. Instead of making it a negative lesson, he made it a positive one at GHPS Miyapur in Karnataka.

Seeing Chitti work as a Class Assistant at ZPHS Andugula in Telangana, her husband, inspired by her work, becomes a volunteer teacher for the same school.

In GHS Madhavganj in Madhya Pradesh, a school teacher, seeing the clarity a volunteer teacher has on a lesson, requested the latter to repeat the lesson and sits in to learn.

MEMORIES MADE, ALONG THE MARINA BEACH IN CHENNAI.

The Chennai Chapter Meet 2024, held on September 28 at Marina Beach, brought together 10 passionate Volunteer Teachers for a day of connection, collaboration, and learning.

Represented by Praveen Bhaskar and Anees Fathima from eVidyaloka Trust, the event aimed to foster a sense of community and share valuable insights on improving class delivery and overcoming challenges. The Volunteer Teachers who participated included Suguna Mohan, Indhu Vijay, Jayaradha Shankar, Sankar Balasubramanian, Harinath Dhandapani, Dhanalakshmi Ranganathan, Padmaveni Anand, Katyaini Kaglanu, Prakash, and Ranganathan T V.

Throughout the meeting, the teachers shared their experiences, suggestions, and reflections. Suguna Mohan, a dedicated volunteer since 2015, emphasized the transformative power of education and the impact it has on rural children, stating, "Delivering these sessions is about changing lives—not just for the children but for entire families." Indhu Vijay, who began her journey with eVidyaloka in 2017, noted how teaching virtually from abroad allows her to stay connected with her homeland. "This connection gives me a sense of belonging and a chance to guide these children in ways beyond the classroom," she said.

Other volunteers shared feedback on their experiences, with Jayaradha Shankar expressing her enthusiasm for continuing to teach AI. Harinath Dhandapani suggested slowing down the pace of lessons to help students grasp concepts better, while Sankar Balasubramanian requested feedback mechanisms to enhance class delivery.

The meeting ended with a heartfelt thank-you from Praveen Bhaskar, recognizing the commitment of these teachers. With plans for more frequent gatherings every three months, the Chennai Chapter Meet 2024 strengthened the bond between eVidyaloka and its volunteers, ensuring continuous support and collaboration in delivering quality education to rural India.

eleVate

Webinar Series for eVidyaloka Volunteers

We have three more chapters added to eleVate.

As part of eVidyaloka's commitment to delivering quality education to children in rural India, eleVate provides volunteers with the knowledge, skills, and resources they need to thrive in a digital classroom.

Through a range of expert-led sessions, volunteers will gain insights into innovative teaching methods, classroom management techniques, and student engagement strategies.

eVidyaloka is able to transform the educational landscape of rural India with access to quality education because of the unwavering support of our patrons and volunteers.
